Let's Start!

Sally and John are looking at shirts. What color are they?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about free time activities or personal likes/dislikes in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What colors do you like? Why?
- What colors do you usually wear?

Can Do Statements

- I can ask and say where things are in a department store.
- I can talk about colors and sizes.
- I can talk about things in a store.

Let's Explore!

Where is the menswear department?

* "Menswear" is any clothing for men.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

John: Let's go in here. Mom is giving Dad shirts for his birthday. I'm buying them.
Sally: Are you having a party?
John: Yes. It's on Saturday.
Salesperson: Can I help you?
John: We're looking for the menswear department.
Salesperson: It's upstairs, beside the shoe department, near the washrooms.
Sally: Up the escalator and to the right?
Salesperson: To the left.
John: Thanks.
Sally: What color shirts? What size?
John: He likes blue or green. He can wear a medium, but he likes large shirts.
Sally: These are nice. Those white dress shirts are nice too.
John: No, I can't buy him dress shirts. He's going on holiday soon and needs casual shirts.
Sally: Okay, let's look over here.

Let's Practice!

Go up the escalator!

Instructions: Complete the sentences. Write the missing word. Use large, department, to the right, white dress, green.

1. We're looking for the menswear _____.

Learning Points

Talking About Colors and Sizes

You use colors and sizes to describe things in a store.

When you use a color and a size to describe the same item, the order is size + color + noun.

Colors	Sizes
red	small (S)
orange	medium (M)
yellow	large (L)
green	extra large (XL)
blue
purple	big (not for clothes)
brown black white grey pink

Examples:

- A small blue shirt.
- A big department store.

Learning Points

Asking and Saying Where Things Are

You use a where question to ask where things are.

You use expressions like upstairs or next to to say where things are.

Asking Where Things Are	Saying Where Things Are
Where is it?	It's next to ...
Where is the ... ?	It's upstairs ...
Where are the ... ?	They are next to ...
Where can I find ... ?	It's between the ... and the ...
Where is it located?	It's located ...

Examples:

• Anne: Where are the socks?

Salesperson: They are upstairs next to the shoe department.

• Tom: Where is the washroom?

Salesperson: It's located on the 3rd floor.
