Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people, their likes and dislikes, homes or countries in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can ask and say what people are doing.
- I can express permission, possibility, or ability.
- I can ask and say where places are.
- I can make suggestions.

Ask your partner:

- What places can you go to near your city?
- When is a good time to go?
- What can you do there?

Let's Explore!

Peter is seeing a lot of Vanessa lately!

* "Is seeing" usually means dating a person.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Conversation 1

John: Hey, Peter. What are you doing next weekend?
Peter: Vanessa and I are going to Revere Beach to see Blue Sky.
John: I like that band. Where's Revere Beach? How much is it?
Peter: It's 15 miles north of Boston. It's free. Can I use your car?
John: Can you drive?
Peter: Uh. Sure.
John: Hmm. How about Sally and I come too. I can drive.
Peter: Let's eat out after the event.
John: Sounds good.

Conversation 2

Peter: Hi, Vanessa. We're driving to your place now.
Vanessa: We?
Peter: John and Sally are coming today as well.
Vanessa: That's great! Sally and I can talk on the way.
Peter: You two talk all the time!
Vanessa: Not that often! Where are you now?
Peter: We're on your street.

Let's Practice!

What are Peter and Vanessa's plans for next weekend?

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Select the correct answer.

1. Which sentence talks about the future?

Learning Points

The Present Continuous Tense for Future Meaning

You use the Present Continuous tense to talk about things that are arranged, on the agenda or booked for the future.

The Present Continuous tense also talks about actions happening now.

Present Continuous (for now)	Present Continuous (for the future)
Hi! Where are you going?	They're going to the beach on Saturday.
He's reading the newspaper.	She's seeing a movie with Tom tonight.

Examples:

• Kirk: What are you doing tomorrow?

Jessica: I'm going to the beach.

The Modal Can for Ability, Possibility and Permission

You use the modal can to ask and talk about what is possible.

Example: I can buy him a tie!

You use the modal can to say you have an ability or know how to do something.

You can use the modal can to ask for permission or give someone permission.

Examples:

• Possibility: Can you show me those ties?

• Ability: I can speak English!

• Permission:

Alice: Can I smoke here?

Mark: No, you can't smoke here. You can smoke in the garden.
